Our Cuisine

On the first floor of the hotel, looking over luxurious gardens and with pristine views of the Álvaro Domecq avenue, the dividing line of the city. The restaurant's large windows create a transparent atmosphere full of light, encouraging culinary enjoyment. The fresh products from the local market are the main elements of the cuisine and are regional, traditional, home cooked. The cream of courgette (zucchini), or the roteña style urta fish (similar to porgy) are good examples of this. The delicious sautéed artichokes of a succulent and flavorful texture are representatives of the simple and healthy Andalusian cuisine. For those with a sweet tooth, we offer yogurt mousse, flan, or various homemade tarts. The wine list is full of wines representing the different regions, with the spirituous wines from within the area and the fruity white wines from the south. A careful selection of brandy and cigars are also available. Average menu price: 20-30 EUR
