Restaurant nhube

nhube

This new local, designed by the famous chef Ferrán Adrià, acts as a restaurant, reading room, sitting room, and bar-cafeteria all in one. It's a multifunctional space designed to please our business clientele as well as the restaurant patron not staying at the hotel.

Our Cuisine

This new local, designed by the famous chef Ferrán Adrià, acts as a restaurant, reading room, sitting room, and bar-cafeteria all at once.

It's a multifunctional space to please our business clientele as well as the restaurant patron not staying at the hotel. In this modern, flexible atmosphere with lighting changes to reflect the time of day and decorated with designer furniture, one can listen to music, surf the internet, read, or watch television.

The most surprising thing is that the culinary offerings are mostly homemade, simple dishes from traditional Spanish cuisine with the aim of making clients feel at home.

The nhube menu starts with natural vegetable and fruit juices and ranges from hot sandwiches (Majorcan sausage with "manchego" cheese; grilled "lomo" (pork), onion, and brie cheese) to cold ones (green peepers with "ventresca" (a high-quality tuna) and black olives; glazed chicken with boiled ham and cream cheese), and even more complete dishes such as spaghetti carbonara, market-fresh fish Andalusian-style, chicory with Roquefort, rabbit with "salmorejo" sauce or eggs with French fries and Iberian ham. Light and original desserts complete the attractive and appetizing experience.
